2. Desired profile

- Currently in or finishing graduate studies.
- Fluency in French, English (meetings with European partners), optional Spanish
- Taste for field research
- Commitment to agriculture and climate issues
- Analytical and writing skills

3. About the MOVING project

The internship will take place within the association Origin for Sustainability, which is a partner in a European and Swiss research project on the future of value chains in mountain regions in the context of climate change. This project, called MOVING, brings together 23 mountain areas from 16 countries to examine the impact of and adaptation to climate change on the sectors.

In the Swiss Jura, this project brings together local stakeholders around the Tête de Moine PDO cheese sector, in order to assess its current and future potential weaknesses and strengths. The study will take into account environmental aspects, socio-economic realities and all the factors of change at play.

More information on the MOVING project and the ongoing activities is available on the official website: <https://www.moving-h2020.eu/>

MOVING receives funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement No. 862739.
